

—suits and overcoats that will satisfy

—in quality, fit and service.

—with all the distinction of the made-to-order garment, and priced much lower.

—$15 to $40.

TEMPORARY QUARTERS 2355 WASHINGTON.

NYE'S

The Christmas Question—What to Buy Just a Few Suggestions:

NECKWEAR—Dainty, always pleases... 35c to $2.50
HANDKERCHIEFS—Hand embroidered to plain linen and lawn.

STOCKINGS—The finest Silks and Lisle.
BED-ROOM SLIPPERS—For baby, daughter and mother. Soft warm Shawls and Hug-me-tights for Grandmother.

Bootees, Jackets, Bibs, Mittens, Sweaters, Dresses—so many things for Baby—can't mention all.
FURS, WAISTS, SUITS, COATS, BATH ROBES, SWEATERS.

Only a few short weeks to Christmas—shop early and get the best at Holiday Prices.

THE M. M. WYKES CO.

STANDARD TELEPHONES
For Editorial, News and Society Department, Call Only Phone No. 421.
For Subscription and Advertising Department, Call Only Phone No. 56.

RANDOM REFERENCES

Advertisers must have their copy ready for the Evening Standard the evening before the day on which the advertisement is to appear in order to insure publication.

From Salt Lake—Abbott Maginnis, exalted ruler of the Salt Lake lodge B. P. O. E., spent Thanksgiving day at the home of his mother at 2971 Washington avenue.

At Once—Good, clean, soft rags at the Standard Office. Highest prices paid.

Home for Thanksgiving—Mr. and Mrs. Levon O. Halgren of Salt Lake City were Ogdens visitors yesterday. Mrs. Halgren was formerly Miss Beryl Greenwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Greenwell.

Old Mats for sale at standard office. 25 cents per hundred.

Prof. Cowles—Professor Leroy E. Cowles is spending a few days in the city, visiting relatives and friends. Prof. Cowles was a member of the Weber academy faculty several years ago, and renewed acquaintances at the school last Wednesday.

First-Class Auto Service—Call up Elite Cafe, Phone 72.

From Montello—R. Ray Nixon of Montello, Nevada, celebrated Thanksgiving day with relatives in Ogdens. Mr. Nixon was for several years superintendent of the Third Ward Sunday School of Ogdens and a prominent member of that ward. He is now vice-president and manager of the Montello Mercantile company of Montello.

At Once—Good, clean, white rags at the Standard Office. Highest prices paid.

Mayor H. G. Hayball of Logan was a guest of W. H. White of this city yesterday.

Wanted—Clean rags, colored or white. Bring them to the Standard.

Joy Riders—The automobile of R. P. Hunter was borrowed by Joy-riders last night while the owner was enjoying the concert at the Methodist church. The machine was found about midnight at the rear of the Utah National bank.

Old papers for sale at the Standard Office, 25c per hundred.

Horse and Buggy Disappear—A horse and buggy belonging to Hjalmer Erickson of Farr West was taken from in front of one of the theaters last night while Mr. Erickson was witnessing the performance.

For Purity, Sweetness and Palatability, B & G Butter has no equal in the West.

December Court—Judge Nathan J. Harris is holding court at Farmington today and it is expected that December 1 and 2 will be taken up in that court. The December term of court will open in Ogdens in Judge Harris' division, December 3.

Prize Waltzes—Nearly 900 persons spent Thanksgiving evening at the Colonial dancing academy. The feature of the evening was the Grand prize-waltzing contest, which was par-

JUDGE CAUSES A BOY CAMP FOR 150 MEN NINETEEN TO WALK TO WORK IN YARDS REMODELING

According to police court records, Thanksgiving day was celebrated in a most conservative manner. Only four drunks were on the docket and two of these, Jerry Casey and Jesus Floris were not very troublesome. They were given suspended sentences.

W. J. Hogan, who was arrested in front of the Isis theater last night, was alleged to have used profane language and was held for a further investigation.

William Van Komen was arrested on a charge of fighting in a saloon early last night. The testimony of the complaining witnesses, however, brought out the information that there "might have been" a fight if Van Komen had not been ousted from the liquor house. On motion of the assistant city attorney, the complaint was changed to one of drunkenness and to this Van Komen pleaded guilty.

In telling his story, Van Komen stated that he was only nineteen years old, but had been buying liquor at any place he desired, and he excels, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

W. E. Scott, a cripple, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer stated that the fellow had been begging. Scott's story was that he had been making a living by selling pencils, but that he had been drinking a little and that, while under the influence of liquor, he had probably done a little begging. The judge took Scott's physical condition into consideration and suspended sentence, on the man promising to save his money in the future.

Frank Mills, a negro vag, created such a sensation that the judge had to open the window. He gave the man 20 minutes to get started for Salt Lake, where he said he wanted to go as soon as he could get his suit case.

The preliminary hearing of the case of the State of Utah vs. Ben Foreman was set for December 3.

The remodeling of the local railroad yards will begin next Monday. The contract for the construction work has been secured by the Utah Construction company and the work of setting up camp for the workmen was started today. There will be 150 men employed on the job and the camp will be just south of the Y at the south end of the yards and near the main yards of the company.

A steam shovel has been brought from Glenn's Ferry, Idaho, where the Utah construction company has just completed a large contract. Material for leveling the yards is to be brought from the deep in the sand ridge through which the Oregon Short Line passes.

W. L. Wattis of the Utah Construction Company received a telegram containing the information that a large shipment of rails and other material had passed Evanston and would reach Ogdens within a few hours.

Mr. Wattis said that the work would be done as fast as the traffic through the yards would permit the tearing up of the tracks that are to be moved and that the contract had been made to meet such contingencies.

It is probable that in addition to the changing of some of the present trackage, that about ten miles of new tracks will be laid.

"That young Rowllins stays till a very late hour, Nora. What does your mother say about it?"

"She says men haven't changed a bit, pa,"—London Opinion.

CATHEDRAL BUILDING AT A STANDSTILL

New York, Nov. 28.—The many years in the building of the great cathedral of St. John the Divine, which has proceeded in the old manner of building the interior first—that is the dome-covered nave—has come to a standstill because of indecision as to the exterior design. It is announced today that the novel method will be employed by letting the public render a verdict on the two plans which had been tentatively adopted for the exterior.

Duplicate designs are to be placed on public exhibition in the synod hall on the cathedral grounds and the architectural league views to Bishop Greer or to any of the trustees of the cathedral.

The original plan has as a feature a great central tower ending in a spire. A later design presents two companion spires in place of the one central tower and minor towers to the number of seven, while the entire exterior is practically a mass of miniature towers. The original design is, with the exception of the central tower scheme, generally plain, while in the second design hardly a square foot of exterior space is left uncovered with ornament.

Bishop Greer himself is a strong advocate of the new design as more inspirational than the old one. Advocates of the old plan declare that the great central tower is the move impressive and that the center tower would lose its effect from the mass of minor towers and ornaments.

Coming Sunday to Wednesday. A double featured program at the Globe, with enlarged orchestra Sunday night. "Nero and Britannicus," beautifully colored, and "The Wheels of Destruction."

Prices the same.

MATT GARR TO GO TO THE ISLANDS

Lieutenant Matt Garr, a graduate of the Ogdens high school, who has been on leave of absence from the army, will depart for Honolulu on December 1 to rejoin his command.

Lieutenant Garr began his military career in 1906 as a cadet private in the Ogdens high school. He soon rose from the ranks to the position of Captain of Company B and then of Company A. This position he held until his graduation.

He enlisted in the National Guard of Utah in April, 1908, and received the rank of corporal the following month. He received an honorable discharge in May of the same year, and in October, 1909, re-enlisted. He was again promoted to the rank of corporal two months after his enlistment, then to sergeant and honorably discharged as sergeant and sharp-

"PRINCE OF TONIGHT"

"The Prince of Tonight," in which Tom Arnold, will be seen at the Orpheum Sunday night adds another long list of musical plays from the workshop of Adams, Hough and Howard, which LeCompte and Flesher are producing this season. The story is given a fantastic twist, through the transformation of a poor young college boy to a rich young prince. The company is a large one consisting of some fifty people and the production is the most elaborate ever seen on a road tour.

MORE SUFFRAGETTES TO VISIT WILSON

Washington, Nov. 28.—Another suffragist delegation is to visit the White House next week in an effort to obtain an expression from President Wilson as to his stand on the suffrage question. Plans for the visit have already been made at the headquarters here of the National American Woman Suffrage association, but no definite date has been selected.

"We intend to obtain a definite statement of the Democratic administration's attitude toward woman suffrage," says Mrs. Jessie Hardy Stubbs. "We will try to see the president at his convenience, but we are going to see him just as the New Jersey delegation did."

"Our national convention will be meeting next week at the psychological moment when the president will be reading his message to congress. Plans for the visit to the White House are in charge of Miss Florence King of Chicago, who, it is understood, is mapping the questions that are to be put to the chief executive. Senator Helen Ring Robinson, member of the Colorado legislature, also will take an active part in the proposed interview with the president."

Deaths and Funerals

FELIZ—Funeral services for Juan J. Feliz who died Nov. 26 at the family home, 2415 Lincoln avenue will be held from the Kirkendall chapel tomorrow at 10 a. m. Sunday at 10:15 a. m. the remains will be shipped to Los Alamos, Calif., where burial will be made. Mr. Ross Feliz and Miss Ruby Feliz will accompany the body.

Armed Mexican—A heavily armed Mexican was put off a Southern Pacific train near Ogdens last night. At the time he was thought to be Lopez, the bandit.

Reform Association—On November 30 more than 500 of the leading clergymen in America, including Rev. John Edward Carver of Ogdens, will preach special, simultaneous sermons on Christian citizenship. The subject will be "The Spiritual Bedrock and the Human Superstructure of Government." These sermons mark the opening of the convention of the National Reform association at Pittsburgh.

Horse and Buggy Disappear—A horse and buggy belonging to Hjalmer Erickson of Farr West was taken from in front of one of the theaters last night while Mr. Erickson was witnessing the performance.

For Purity, Sweetness and Palatability, B & G Butter has no equal in the West.

December Court—Judge Nathan J. Harris is holding court at Farmington today and it is expected that December 1 and 2 will be taken up in that court. The December term of court will open in Ogdens in Judge Harris' division, December 3.

Prize Waltzes—Nearly 900 persons spent Thanksgiving evening at the Colonial dancing academy. The feature of the evening was the Grand prize-waltzing contest, which was par-

Prize Waltzes—Nearly 900 persons spent Thanksgiving evening at the Colonial dancing academy. The feature of the evening was the Grand prize-waltzing contest, which was par-

Prize Waltzes—Nearly 900 persons spent Thanksgiving evening at the Colonial dancing academy. The feature of the evening was the Grand prize-waltzing contest, which was par-

Prize Waltzes—Nearly 900 persons spent Thanksgiving evening at the Colonial dancing academy. The feature of the evening was the Grand prize-waltzing contest, which was par-

Prize Waltzes—Nearly 900 persons spent Thanksgiving evening at the Colonial dancing academy. The feature of the evening was the Grand prize-waltzing contest, which was par-

Wright's

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

$3.98 For Handsome Hats worth to $20

$20 Hats—$18 Hats—$15 Hats—$12 Hats—
Handsomely trimmed models of this month... $3.98

THE SALE OF PLUMES

French Plumes $2.94 Regular $5.00 value.
French Plumes $3.94 Regular $7.50 value.

UNTRIMMED HAT SECTION

Silk Velvet Shapes, worth to $6.00... 98c
Silk and Plush—Silk and Velvet Shapes, worth to $12.00... $1.98

98c Buys a Jaunty "Tango Tam"

Trimmed and Untrimmed "Tango Tams"—the most popular hat of the year—values to $5.00... 98c

shooter in May, 1911.

During this time, he participated in the annual maneuvers of the United States army at the Crow Creek reservation, Wyoming, in August, 1908 and August, 1910. During the winters of 1909 and 1910 he attended the instruction school for commissioned officers of the National Guard of Utah.

Lieutenant Garr enlisted in the United States army May 4, 1911, and went to Fort Logan. There he passed the examination and was assigned to the Ninth company. He was transferred to Fort Douglas, Utah, in August of the same year. From there he was sent to the Pacific Islands, leaving Salt Lake in November, 1911.

He arrived at Fort McKinley on December 8th. He remained at that post until March 3, 1912, when he was transferred to China. He returned to the Pacific Islands and came from there to the United States in February, 1913.

He took the examination for commissioned officers at Fort Leavenworth and passed highest in a class of thirteen. He received his commission of second lieutenant and was stationed at Honolulu.

Coming Sunday to Wednesday. A double featured program at the Globe, with enlarged orchestra Sunday night. "Nero and Britannicus," beautifully colored, and "The Wheels of Destruction."

Prices the same.

Society

CLARK-CHAPPLE.

Yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Miss Esther Clark and Mr. Harold Chapple were married at the home of the bride's mother at 339 30th street, President C. F. Middleton performing the nuptial ceremony. Only a few friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony.

Both young people are well known in Ogdens where they have always resided. A host of friends tender their best wishes.

MARRIED ON WEDNESDAY

Wednesday at 3 p. m., at Salt Lake City, Miss Grace Moyes and Christian S. Geiger, both well known and respected young people of Ogdens were married in the apartments of the groom's sister in the Luxor hotel on South Main street. Reverend Murphy of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

At 8 o'clock in the evening a de-

CAMPFIRE GIRLS MEET.

Last Tuesday evening the Campfire girls held their monthly ceremonial meeting at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Virginia Mathews. Much merriment prevailed following initiations of four candidates.

Daintily prepared refreshments were served.

New work to be taken up at the next meeting was discussed.

WILL ENTERTAIN CARD CLUB.

Next Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of 221 Twenty-eighth street will be host and hostess to the jolly Five Hundred club of Five Points.

Following card games, dainty refreshments will be served.

NOTICE OF DELINQUENT SALE.

Pingree Township Company, Principal place of business Ogdens City, Weber County, Utah.

Notice.

There are delinquent on the following described stock on account of assessment numbered 2, levied on the 17th day of September, 1913, the several amounts set opposite the names of the respective stockholders:

No.	Name	Shares	Amount
102 R. Anderson	500	$ 75.00
90 R. L. Carey	1250	187.50
59 Chas. L. Hart	625	93.75	